

NASBA

107th ANNUAL MEETING

NOVEMBER 2-5, 2014 ★ WASHINGTON, D.C.

AGENDA

FOREWORD

Recognizing the need for cooperation and communication among State Boards of Accountancy, NASBA sponsors an Annual Meeting in the fall of each year that provides a unique opportunity for state board members, executive directors and others interested in the profession to discuss freely and candidly the major issues facing state regulation of public accountancy.

The site of NASBA's 107th Annual Meeting, Washington, D.C., is the heart of our nation that has been the site of many outstanding NASBA meetings. In this inspiring setting, we will exchange new ideas and consider how to help the boards protect the public by utilizing the best thinking of regulators, professionals, academics and other interested parties.

Throughout the year, NASBA committees and staff have been engaged in communication with the member boards to keep information flowing. The Annual Meeting is the capstone of those efforts. Speakers from the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Public Company Accounting Oversight Board, American Accounting Association, International Accounting and Auditing Standards Board, Internal Revenue Service and others will join NASBA's leaders in addressing the major regulatory issues involved in ensuring the boards' licensees meet the public's expectations. Through plenary presentations, regional meetings and informal gatherings, participants will be encouraged to share their views with colleagues from other jurisdictions, and consider the ways in which Boards of Accountancy can be responsive to the public's needs.

In addition to the outstanding business program, NASBA has arranged a variety of social events that are designed to provide an opportunity to interact in a casual way and to make everyone's visit to Washington, D.C., a memorable occasion.

REGISTRATION

On Sunday, November 2, registration will be open from 4:00 p.m. until 5:00 p.m. in the Grand Foyer (Ballroom Level). Thereafter, it will be open one half hour before and during all business sessions and will continue to be located in the Grand Foyer.

LOOKING FOR RIBBONS

New Board of Accountancy members and executive directors bring fresh life to NASBA. Because they are so important to our organization, we have included a "first time" ribbon with the name badges of all delegates and executive directors attending their first NASBA Annual Meeting. If you are wearing a first time ribbon, NASBA is particularly pleased you have joined us. If you see a first time ribbon, please extend a royal welcome to the person wearing it.

Our Debt Problems Are Still Far from Solved

9:00 a.m. – 10:00 a.m.

This CEO of a Fortune 100 company has raised his voice around the country to have voters challenge their elected officials to work with their colleagues across the aisle and focus on the national debt. He has been a passionate spokesman for “Fix the Debt,” a group that brought 150 senior business people together around this cause. How does the national debt problem filter down to everyone?

Report from NASBA Chair 2013-2014

10:00 a.m. – 10:15 a.m.

Carlos E. Johnson summarizes NASBA’s activities over the past year, a year of making the voice of the Boards of Accountancy heard and recognized. His focus on increasing NASBA’s and the state boards’ branding efforts has resulted in broader recognition of the important role the Boards play in the regulation of the accounting profession. Assisted by the work of NASBA’s committees, Chair Johnson has been actively involved in responding to exposure drafts and speaking up for the Boards of Accountancy in professional panels. He created new committees and task forces, strengthened ties with the academic community and guided the boards of accountancy to more cooperative and productive relationships with the profession as well as with other regulators. Chair Johnson reports on the progress of the initiatives he began, as well as those launched by his predecessors.

The New Audit Report: Revealing Key Audit Matters

11:00 a.m. – 11:45 a.m.

Users of audited financial statements have called for more pertinent information in the auditor’s report to assist their decision-making. In response to these requests, the International Auditing and Assurance Standards Board (IAASB) proposed a fundamental overhaul of audit reports, including standards on determining key audit matters and how they should be communicated. The IAASB released its final standards recently and Dan Montgomery underscores what these mean for the public and regulators.

What Makes A Course Qualify for Credit?

3:15 p.m. – 3:45 p.m.

As technology makes new forms of education possible and widely available, how do Board of Accountancy members know those new formats are providing the education that CPAs are required to have? NASBA polls have found the boards rely on the universities to determine if on-line courses, MOOCs, nano courses, internships, etc., are valid. We have asked American Accounting Association Chair Christine A. Botosan to explain how these determinations are made and how much the boards can rely on the transcripts they receive.

Why Accreditation is Meaningful to State Boards

3:45 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.

How should an accountancy board view courses from different educational institutions? Does it matter how many Ph.D.s are on the faculty or if the courses are given outside the United States? Professors Jan Williams and Jerry Trapnell describe the work done by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) International and others to accredit schools.
