MUTUAL RECOGNITION AGREEMENT

Introduction
The State Boards of Accountancy or their equivalent in each of the United States’ (US) jurisdictions (State Boards), which act pursuant to their authorizing statutes, are legislatively empowered by law to protect the public interest by granting and regulating the Certified Public Accountant (CPA) credential and license to practice. The South African Institute of Chartered Accountants (SAICA) is empowered to issue the Chartered Accountant (South Africa) (CA(SA)) credential to qualified applicants. The State Boards and SAICA respectively grant the US CPA and CA(SA) credentials and either grant licenses to practice or their members have access to a license to practice.

The National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) jointly established the International Qualifications Appraisal Board (IQAB) to:
1. Assist State Boards seeking to establish abbreviated pathways through which experienced professionals, who hold substantially equivalent foreign professional accounting credentials, may obtain a Certified Public Accountant license in their jurisdiction (US CPA credential); and
2. Enable US CPAs to obtain foreign professional accounting credentials and the right to practice through similar abbreviated pathways.

The chartered accountancy profession in South Africa receives its licence to operate through the Chartered Accountants Designation (Private) Act 67 of 1993 in terms of which chartered accountants may offer a professional service to the public on condition that they are members of SAICA. SAICA operates as a voluntary association not-for-gain and is registered in terms of the Non-profit Organisations Act 71 of 1997. Being a membership organisation, SAICA’s primary role is to maintain the integrity, quality and brand of the profession, as well as serve, represent and promote the interests of its members and associates.

Believing that there are a significant number of US CPAs who desire to obtain the CA(SA) credential and become Registered Auditors in South Africa, and a significant number of CAs(SA) who desire to obtain the US CPA credential and license to practice, the IQAB and SAICA (known collectively as the “Parties”) set out to evaluate each other’s credential to ascertain if they are substantially equivalent and would thus allow both parties to create for qualified holders of either of the credentials an abbreviated qualification pathway.

Eligibility of Applicants Under this Agreement:
To be eligible for this agreement, candidates must affirm they are competent to perform the services offered according to the relevant professional standards\(^1\), including having the requisite additional experience/training necessary for such work.

\(^{1}\)US CPAs generally practice under standards set by the AICPA, the Financial Accounting Standards Board, the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board and the International Accounting Standards Board. South African CAs(SA) who are also registered auditors (RAs) practice under the standards set by the Independent Regulatory Board for Auditors.
Basis of Review
The Parties have reviewed each other’s credential requirements for entry-level qualification and maintenance of the credential. The review included a comparison of each other’s education, experience, examination and other qualification requirements as well as such factors as continuing education, adherence to a code of ethics, enforcement and judicial processes, organizational structure, administrative responsibilities and other credential maintenance requirements to their own corresponding requirements.

The IQAB compared SAICA’s requirements to those set out in the Uniform Accountancy Act (UAA). The UAA is a model law and not enforceable. Much of the UAA’s language is used by the US jurisdictions and State Boards as they draft the laws and rules that must be followed. Each individual US jurisdiction’s requirement can be found in that jurisdiction’s laws and rules.

SAICA compared the UAA requirements to SAICA’s Policy for the Recognition of Other Professional Bodies.

Basis of Recognition
As a result of these reviews, the Parties are satisfied that the US CPA credential and CA(SA) credential are substantially equivalent subject to the conditions set forth in this agreement and accompanying appendices.

Therefore, the Parties agree:
1. To create an abbreviated qualification pathway for eligible holders of the other’s credential.
   a. A holder of a CA(SA) credential will be eligible to obtain the US CPA credential via this agreement if the holder meets the eligibility requirements set out in Appendix 1A (defined as an “eligible holder”).
   b. A holder of a US CPA credential will be eligible to obtain the CA(SA) credential via this agreement if the holder meets the eligibility requirements set out in Appendix 1B (defined as an “eligible holder”).

2. An eligible holder, as set out in 1 above, may obtain the other credential via the following abbreviated pathways.
   a. The abbreviated pathway to the US CPA credential for eligible holders of a CA(SA) credential is set out in Appendix 2A.
   b. The abbreviated pathway to the CA(SA) credential for eligible holders of a US CPA credential is set out in Appendix 2B.

3. To assist holders of the other’s credential, who are both eligible for the abbreviated pathway, as set out in 1 above, and who successfully complete the abbreviated pathway, as set out in 2 above, to obtain licensure in their respective jurisdictions:
   a. Appendix 3A sets out the process that a CA(SA) credential holder should follow to obtain licensure in the United States.
   b. Appendix 3B sets out the process that a US CPA credential holder should follow to become a Registered Auditor (RA) in South Africa.

4. This agreement shall be in force for a period of five years from the date of last signature. This agreement may be renewed, or extended, through mutual agreement.
5. To inform the other Party, on an annual basis, of:
   a. Material changes made to the qualification requirements of their credential.
   b. Mutual recognition agreements, reciprocal membership agreements, or other similar agreements signed or renewed with other institutes or professional accountancy organizations.
   c. New or existing pathways to membership or licensure for foreign credential holders that are initiated or materially altered.
   d. Strategic alliances, joint ventures, or material relationships with other institutes or professional accountancy organizations that are initiated or materially altered.
   e. The number of members from their respective jurisdictions who have applied and/or received their credential, as well as those who have obtained a license to practice.

6. Either Party may, with 60 (sixty)-days’ notice, withdraw their consent to this agreement.

7. Where personal data of an individual is required to be disclosed by one party (the discloser) to the other party (the recipient) under the terms of this Agreement, the discloser agrees to obtain and document the individual’s specific, express, and written consent to the disclosure of such personal data prior to disclosing it to the recipient.

8. For the purposes of clause 7, personal data means any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person ("data subject"); an identifiable person is one who can be identified, directly or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, an identification number, location data, online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that person.

Process to Obtain Licensure in the US for Eligible Holders of the CA(SA) Credential

In the United States, the US CPA credential is a license to practice public accounting, issued by a US jurisdiction, valid for use in such jurisdiction.

Upon completing the abbreviated pathway and successfully applying to a State Board (as set out in Appendix 2A), the eligible holder of the CA(SA) credential may receive a CPA license in a US jurisdiction.

Once licensed, CPA licensees are under the auspices of, and subject to, all relevant federal laws and regulations, state laws, regulations, and policies. Maintenance of the license requires meeting periodic renewal requirements, including timely completion of renewal forms, continuing professional education and payment of fees. In some US jurisdictions, obtainment of a firm license, in addition to an individual license, will be necessary to legally provide certain restricted services in US jurisdictions.
Appendix 3B

Process to Obtain Licensure in South Africa for Eligible Holders of a US CPA Credential

In order to perform audits in South Africa, registration as a Registered Auditor (RA), which is regulated by the Independent Regulatory Board for Auditors (IRBA), is required. Auditing is deemed to be a specialisation which occurs after qualification as a professional accountant. Only professional accountants who have qualified through a professional body accredited by the IRBA may specialise as an RA.

Currently, SAICA is the only professional body accredited by the IRBA for admission as a RA.

Registration as an auditor in the South African context occurs as follows:
1. Registration with SAICA as a Chartered Accountant (South Africa) (as set out in Appendix 2B);
2. Successful application for admission as a Registered Auditor (RA)\(^9\).

Together with the applicant form, applicants are required to submit a brief Curriculum Vitae (CV) detailing their professional history as well as evidence of CPD undertaken for the past three years. Applicants must also submit a brief letter explaining why they are seeking registration with the IRBA.

Applicants joining an existing firm must also submit a letter from the Senior Partner or equivalent of the firm confirming the applicant’s position in the firm and their audit proficiency.

IRBA will assess the application and applicants will be required to attend an interview with the IRBA’s Proficiency Assessment Panel which includes a focus on the Code of Professional Conduct, governance requirements in South Africa, and Auditing and Accounting Standards.

\(^9\) The application for registration as a Registered Auditor is made on Form 1, which is available on IRBA’s website (https://www.irba.co.za/upload/Form%201.pdf). It should be scanned and emailed to registry@irba.co.za
