Busy at work

From the VBOA Chair

Greetings everyone,

I hope you had a wonderful holiday season and enjoyed time with family and friends. It is so hard to believe that we are in 2025. I know for many of us in the profession, we are embarking upon one of our busiest times of the year and I can say firsthand that our industry continues to move full speed ahead with many changes on the horizon. The board has been busy at work executing on the goals and strategies we set during our planning session, responding to key exposure drafts impacting our profession and continuing to keep track of and monitor results and scores from the new CPA exam format that has now been in place for a year.

WENDY LEWIS,
CPA

Alongside all the positive momentum, our board also experienced the devastating loss of our longstanding member, William R. Brown, who passed away in the fall (see page 4). He was such a hardworking member who always challenged us to ensure that we were considering the impact of each CPA, especially the smaller firms and sole practitioners. He was a pioneer in the field and someone that was a role model to many of us in the profession and really paved the way for individuals like myself to not only enter the profession but to succeed and thrive. We were privileged to celebrate him and his family at our January board meeting.

NEWS AND NOTES

One of the continued focal points of the VBOA is finding ways to increase and enhance our CPA pipeline. We have continued our student outreach and board presence across college campuses, including a wonderful board meeting Oct. 22 hosted by Virginia Tech. We were able to dialogue and discuss accounting careers with some bright and exceptional students (see page 8). Our board members and VBOA staff also participate in various college presentations, sessions and career fairs as further touchpoints to connect with students. And we are busy at work planning our next college visit for March 18 at Virginia State University. We have made it a point to visit a historically black college each year as we continue to strengthen our diversity and inclusion efforts overall.

Recently, the board collaborated with the VSCPA on legislation to create a new pathway for licensure

We are fully supportive of an alternative pathway and believe it will go a long way in addressing CPA pipeline challenges.

The board was happy to welcome a new member, Mr. Guy A. Davis who comes with a wealth of knowledge and experience in the accounting industry (see page 5). I look forward to working with Guy and seeing the contributions he will bring to the board.

While the CPA profession has undergone so many changes and pipeline challenges, I continue to be so proud of all the work we do at the VBOA to inspire future CPAs and protect the public. CPAs touch just about every facet of the business world, and we need each and every one of you to continue to innovate and grow our profession.

NEWS AND NOTES

From the executive director:

At the VBOA, we know that when a new year begins, a new renewal season isn't far behind. It's a great time for some very important renewal reminders and tips.

March 1 is the first day for 2025-2026 CPA license renewals. If you do not renew your license by June 30, your license will expire and will need to be reinstated. Everyone has four full months—that's over 120 days—to renew their individual and firm licenses. There is no grace period. So, it's in your best interest to renew early!

Though VBOA is not required to send out renewal reminders, we do: via email, social media, phone, text and post card. We do our best to limit recipients of these notices to those who have not renewed their license. Our reminders go out using the contact information we have on record for you in your VBOA portal, so check there to make sure yours is correct, and check that you have our email domain (boa.virginia.gov) whitelisted. If you have not renewed by June 1, we will send you a postcard in the mail. And we send a final recorded phone message to anyone who has not renewed by the last half of June.

When you renew, please read all certification questions carefully. These certifications are required to keep your CPA license in good standing. They are also required by Virginia law. They include certifying compliance with CPE requirements and reporting any administrative, criminal, or civil action to VBOA. Falsely certifying can result in disciplinary actions.

CPE requirements are 120 hours over a rolling three-calendar-year period. For the upcoming renewals this would be 2022, 2023, and 2024. Each year you must earn a minimum of 20 CPE hours, and you must take a Virginia-approved ethics course. If you sign or release audit reports, you must also have eight of the required hours in accounting and auditing.

So, what happens if you fall short of the requirements? You should self-report a CPE deficiency. During renewals this can be done easily by answering the CPE questions honestly. If you report that you did not meet all the requirements, we will include you in a self-report CPE audit pool. Penalties are typically lower for self-reported deficiencies. And surprisingly, sometimes we assist a licensee in meeting the CPE requirements with training events they didn't know could be counted.

NANCY GLYNN,
CPA

Have you had an administrative, criminal, or civil action that you are not certain you reported to VBOA? Answer the questions honestly and we will reach out to you for a copy of the order/action. We will review it to determine if any further information or action is needed. Remember these should be reported within 30 days of the action, but it is better to report late than fail to report at all.

A few reminders for those who hold firm licenses: Renewing a firm license requires a different sign-in than your individual license, so be certain both licenses are renewed on time. During licensure, every firm names a principal licensee. If a firm license is renewed but the associated principal licensee has not renewed their individual CPA license, the firm renewal is placed on hold. Again, reminders will be sent if the firm renewal has not been completed or is in the hold status but to prevent this potential licensing lapse make sure your principal licensee renews early.

Don't hesitate to reach out to our team. They are ready to assist you with any questions.

In memoriam: William R. Brown, CPA, MBA

William "Bill" Russell Brown, 84, passed away Oct. 16. Brown would have completed his second four-year term on the Virginia Board of Accountancy in June. He resigned from the board late this summer due to his health.

Brown

Chair Wendy Lewis proclaimed a resolution in memoriam of Brown at the Jan. 13 meeting. Current and former board members and staff shared memories and gratitude. Two of his children, Allyson Wells and Russell Brown, were in attendance and were presented with the resolution and his CPA wall certificate.

Throughout his nearly two terms, Brown brought his decades of private sector, sole proprietor and previous regulatory experience to the table. He served on NASBA committees even through 2024.

Brown was a CPA in Virginia and New York. He served on the New York State Board of Accountancy from 1985-1995, serving as chair in 1994. He sat on many professional boards, including the Virginia Society of CPAs and the New York State Society of CPAs and the Together We Can Foundation. He was also appointed to the Executive Committee of the Private Companies Practice Section of the AICPA and served on its governing council.

Brown earned an accounting degree from Baruch College, City University of New York. After graduating, he cofounded the accounting firm Stewart, Benjamin & Brown. In 1979, he earned an MBA from Iona College and opened his own accounting firm, William R. Brown & Company. After many years of travelling back and forth between Virginia Beach and New York for work, in the early 2000s, Brown sold his accounting firm and went into semi-retirement, eventually settling in New Kent County.

Brown loved to travel, talk politics and spirituality. He was an athlete and avid sports fan and had many accounting clients who were professional athletes. Brown was a dedicated and loving family man and is survived by his sister, Gloria Scavella; his children, Russell, Allyson, Jacquelyn, and Carson (Samba); his grandchildren, Anthony, Chris, Yvonne, Tanurah, Chanell, Eddie, Robbie, Krystal, Lloyd, and Tecla; his beloved great-grandchildren, and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, loved ones, and friends.

Bill Brown's children, Russell Brown and Allyson Wells, stand with Board Chair Wendy Lewis as she presents them with Brown's resolution.

NEWS AND NOTES

Guy Davis, CPA, appointed to VBOA

Governor Glenn Youngkin appointed Guy A. Davis, CPA, CIRA, CFE, CDBV, of Henrico, Virginia, to the Virginia Board of Accountancy effective Nov. 1, 2024.

Davis

A practicing CPA in Virginia for over 30 years, Davis specializes in corporate restructuring, bankruptcy litigation, financial damages, business valuation, and corporate transactions. As senior managing director at FTI Consulting, a global leader in restructuring and dispute resolution services, he leads the firm's Bankruptcy Litigation Practice.

Davis started his career as a financial analyst in the oil and consumer products industries. In 1989, he joined C.W. Amos & Company, a Maryland-based accounting firm where he assisted in the startup of a management advisory services practice. In 1996, he co-founded Penta Advisory Services, a boutique restructuring and litigation consulting firm that ultimately merged with Navigant Consulting, Inc. After five years at Navigant, he was hired as a managing director at Protiviti where he worked for 17 years as the co-leader of the firm's Litigation and Restructuring Services practice.

Davis has represented plaintiffs and defendants in some of the country's largest insolvency-related disputes including K-Mart Corporation, Nine West Holdings, Inc., Sears Holding Corp. and Purdue Pharma LP. He provided operations management services, conducted fraud investigations, asset liquidations, and debt restructurings, and served as an expert witness in a variety of asset recovery and other litigation matters.

Davis is a graduate of the E. Claiborne Robins School of Business at the University of Richmond and earned his master's degree in business administration from Loyola College in Baltimore.

Davis is finishing the second term for William R. Brown, CPA, MBA, on the board, which will expire June 30, 2025. His first VBOA meeting was Dec. 5.

New security measures for VBOA portal

The VBOA has upgraded its portal security. Resetting the user ID or password for your VBOA account will now require a registration code specific to you. All licensees and exam candidates will receive an email containing their unique registration code in coming weeks.

Please save the code for use anytime you get locked out of your VBOA account or need to reset the password or username.

If you cannot find the email, contact us at boa@boa.virginia.gov or (804) 367-8505.

Renewal season is coming

You can renew your individual and firm licenses beginning March 1 and must renew by June 30 or you will need to reinstate your license. Reinstatement includes a CPE audit and additional fee.

Make sure your email and mailing addresses are up to date in our system so that you receive our renewal reminders beginning in March. You can also opt-in to text reminders under the menu item: "Demographics Update."

Score releases

The AICPA and NASBA are back to continuous testing for the core sections in 2025 after last year's more limited schedule allowed for a careful rollout of the updated CPA Exam.

Scores for the discipline sections, a feature of the new CPA Exam, will be administered in the first month of each quarter in 2025, with one exception.

For the second quarter of 2025 only, the AICPA adjusted the testing dates and score release dates to accommodate all the credit extensions that are now expiring June 30, 2025.

The schedule for score releases in 2024 was similar to that in 2011 and 2017, when new versions of the CPA Exam were launched. This allowed for additional analysis to ensure accurate scoring.

CANDIDATES' CORNER

Virginia Tech hosts Oct. 22 VBOA meeting

Board Chair Wendy Lewis calls on a Virginia Tech student at the Oct. 22 meeting hosted by the Pamplin College of Business.

Virginia Tech's Pamplin College of Business hosted the VBOA and staff in Blacksburg for the Oct. 22 VBOA meeting.

More than 60 Tech students stopped by throughout the day to learn from a student-centered agenda, in which board members and guest speakers shared their varying journeys to becoming CPAs and many relevant resources for students.

Two special guests from the college shared a warm welcome with the board. Dr. Saonee Sarker, Pamplin's dean, described some of Pamplin's recent accomplishments and planned growth.

Dr. Robert Davidson, the head of the Accounting and Information Systems (ACIS) department, explained the role of ACIS in attracting students to the CPA profession.

Then President and CEO of NABA, Inc., Guylaine Saint Juste, gave a special presentation on NABA's position that alternative pathways are needed for becoming a CPA. She also shared about her personal career journey from Haiti to NABA, which did not take a "traditional" path.

Next, Board Chair Wendy Lewis, CPA and managing partner at KPMG, led a presentation giving students insights on what the life of a CPA can look like. She corrected many misconceptions of accounting and shared some possible career paths available to students, including job hunting advice and some of the varied and rewarding experiences she has had as a CPA over the course of her career.

Board Vice Chair Nadia A. Rogers, CPA and director of the Master's of ACIS at Virginia Tech, led a presentation offering tips and details on sitting for the CPA Exam. She outlined how the exam changed with CPA Evolution and resources for exam prep.

She also helped explain the 2023 VBOA extensions to Virginia credits and the education requirements for taking the exam, inviting VBOA Licensing and Exam Manager Nicholas Tazza to share more about the exam application process.

Emily Walker, Virginia Society for CPAs vice president of advocacy and pipeline, also shared with attendees the ways in which VSCPA supports students on their pathway to the CPA, including scholarship availability and a mentoring program new in 2023.

Students participated throughout the day, asking questions and taking part in discussions.

Dr. Saonee Sarker, Pamplin's dean, welcomes the board to campus.

DISCIPLINARY ACTIONS

POLICY NOTICE

The policy of the Virginia Board of Accountancy is to publish the information of licensees against whom the VBOA has taken disciplinary action resulting in suspensions, revocations and for other professional violations. The VBOA publishes information of licensees found to be deficient in CPE credit hours in the event of a previous CPE deficiency or previous professional violation, or a disciplinary action resulting in suspension. The VBOA also publishes information of unlicensed individuals and firms against whom the VBOA has taken a disciplinary action.

Monetary penalties are deposited into the Commonwealth's Literary Fund and are not available for use by the VBOA.

VBOA disciplinary actions since 2011 are listed in alphabetical order by name on our website at boa.virginia.gov/enforcement/disciplinary-actions. Contact the VBOA for actions prior to 2011, or if additional information or documentation is needed
